

FUEGO

Most designers wouldn't dream of playing with fire. Fortunately, we're not most designers.

Where Revolution Trumps Evolution

Attaching a label to Fuego is trickier than throwing a salmon—wild, rubbed with herbs and spices—on an open flame. Yes, it's a grill. But it's also an outdoor entertainment center. A social magnet with a great sense of style. The envy of every piece of outdoor furniture you own. Vibrantly designed with enough technological innovations to satisfy the most left-brained among us, Fuego represents a modernist rethink of outdoor living. Which, for people who prefer their aesthetics well done, is a concept worth embracing.

Fuego 01: Four Sides of the Story

What you see—and what you don't—is an architectural reinvention of outdoor grilling. A fully retractable lid. Countertops wide enough for food, glasses and elbows. Heavy-duty storage areas tucked out of sight. Multiple fuel options. Smooth-wheeling agility. Fuego 01 delivers it all. And then some.

Up Close

Like everything else in life, details matter. What you'll find with Fuego is modernism executed with the finest materials and technologies.

Gas Tank/Storage Drawers

Gone are the days of crawling under the grill to hook up a tank. One drawer slides out for easy propane tank storage, while the other can be used for stashing your outdoor cover or grilling tools. Want to use natural gas? No problem. We offer a natural gas conversion kit.

Natural Wood Prep Area

Teak countertops on both sides of the grill and a slate insert give the chef and guests enough work space to prep on site. Chop, stir and converse without having to dash back and forth to the kitchen for utensils and ingredients.

Patented Quick Change Drawer System

The Fuego 01 features a patented quick change drawer system, which comes standard with (2) gas drawers. The infrared and charcoal drawer options can be easily swapped out for hybrid cooking on the fly. Both the 01 and 02 grills have cast iron cooking surfaces for maximum heat retention and quality cooking.

Retractable cooking lid

Mountainous hood? What mountainous hood? Fuego has a fully retractable lid that glides into and out of the grill with ease, cleverly doing away with social barriers in seconds flat.

Revolutionizing High-Rise Living

With a modernist design aesthetic hot enough to sizzle imaginations along with two-inch thick steaks, Fuego 02 Electric takes high-rise grilling to a whole new level. Ideal for balconies and other outdoor spaces where open flames aren't an option, this all-electric grill is compact enough to tuck out of the way yet eye-catching enough to make a big statement. Add technological innovations, exceptional materials, unparalleled heating gusto and the kind of styling that gives million-dollar views a run for their money, and what you get is an inspired rethink of outdoor living.

Fuego 02 Electric: The Heat is On

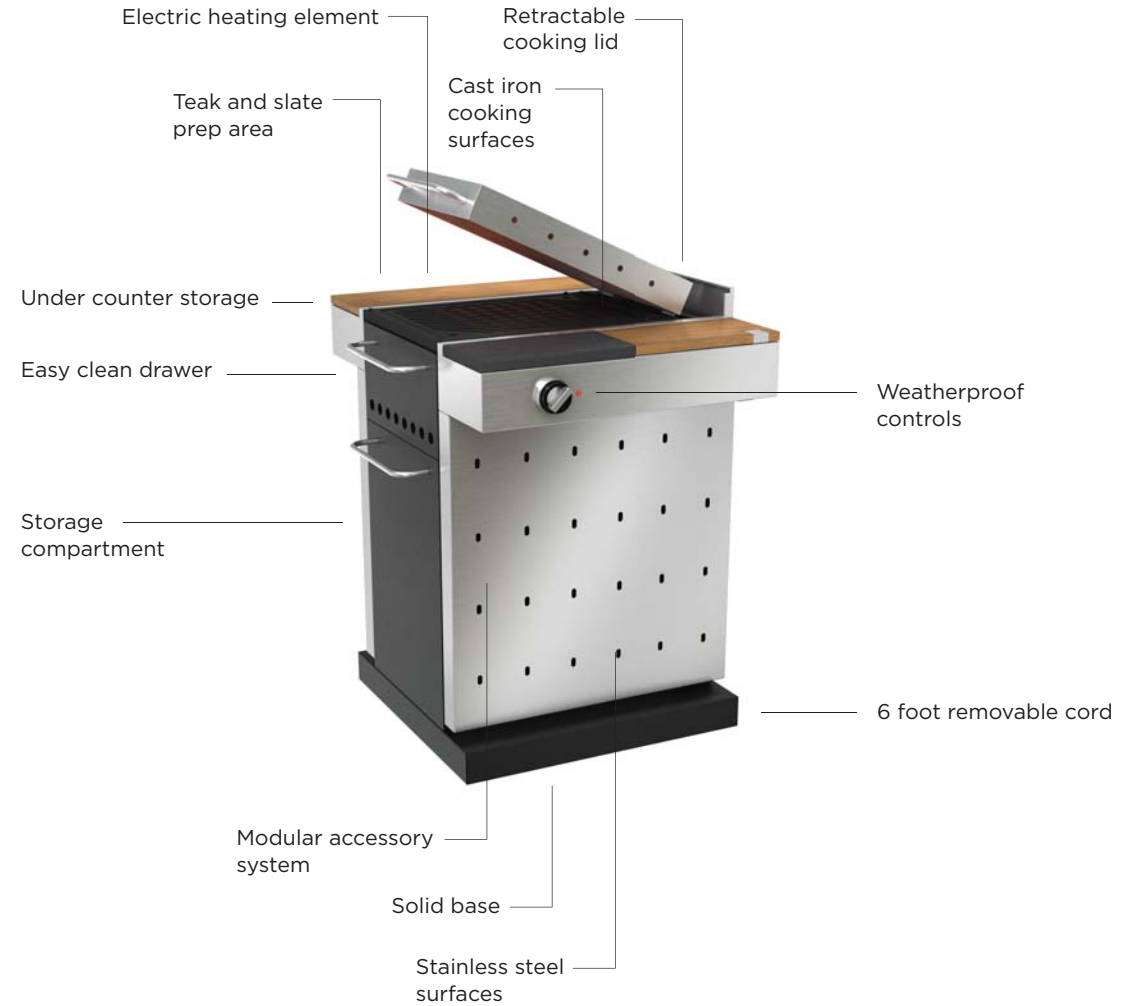

Seasoned with enough bells and whistles to send conventional electric grills running for cover, Fuego 02 Electric takes modernism to the top. Teak and slate countertops with hidden storage areas. A removable cord for trip-free walking. A streamlined retractable lid. A convenient modular accessory system. They're all here and more.

Up Close

Take a close look at what makes Fuego O2 Electric a grill without equal.

Custom Electric Element

In direct contact with the cast iron grill grate, our custom electric element provides maximum heat conductivity while eliminating grease flare-ups. A reflector plate located under the element radiates heat back to the grill surface to ensure the highest cooking intensity, providing both radiant and conductive heat.

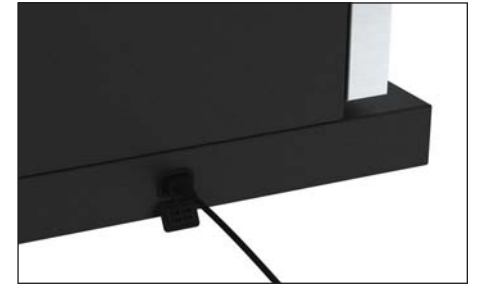

Cast Iron Grill Grate

Fuego O2 Electric is powerful enough to reach, maintain and evenly distribute temperatures of up to 700° F due in large part to the optimal heat retention characteristics of cast iron. The retractable lid aids in preheating the grill surface and can be used during cooking to maximize heat.

Easy Clean Drawer

Clean up is a breeze with our discrete, removable drawer and stainless steel and dishwasher safe residue tray, which slide in and out in a blink.

Removable Power Cord

The Fuego O2 Electric has a removable and weather proof power cord, which can be easily stored in one of its compartments when not in use.

Adding a pinch of this and a sprinkle of that is easy with jars that can be filled with herbs, spices or other culinary must-haves.

Large Cooking Lid

A 7-inch cooking lid is available for chefs who prefer to do their grilling undercover.

An enamel-coated, cast iron griddle lets the grill top do double-duty as a cook top.

Ceramic Tray Set
